COUNCILWOMAN TARKANIAN recognized Clark High School for its Teacher Education Academy, which was recently named a National Magnet School of Distinction. Even with the problems in schools, this program is a diamond.

LOURDES and ANTHONY, students of the Teacher Education Academy, were grateful for the school's recognition. Attending the program has been a great experience for them. ANTHONY thanked the teachers, administration and COUNCILWOMAN TARKANIAN.

COUNCILWOMAN TARKANIAN noted that it takes a lot of hard work to get the universities to provide college-level classes at the high school campuses. She gave credit to JULIE LUDLOW, who has worked very hard on this. MS. LUDLOW accepted the certificate of recognition for PRINCIPAL RONNIE T. SMITH, who could not be present because he was accepting the magnet students for the next school year.
